Academic Activities for Teens
to do in Lockdown

1. Watch a TedED: From the makers of TED talks TedED offers brilliant educational talks, as well as a daily email of lesson plans for any age group.

2. BBC Bitesize: Revision activities for all subjects at all levels, plus daily online lessons coming from 20 April.

3. Online Lessons: Mr Azfar on YouTube is great. Not only has he uploaded lessons on specific topics including Physics, English Lit, and Maths, he also livestreams lessons every day on his channel Lockdown Lessons.

4. Learn a new word from the dictionary: Quick daily English activity.

5. Learn about Art: Google Arts and Culture has a huge rabbit hole of art, architecture and cultural nuggets to fall down. So much to learn!

6. Keep on top of the news: The Day is offering their daily newsletter subscription (usually priced at £120 a year for a family membership) free of charge during lockdown. It has a readership of mostly teenagers, and covers quirky reviews and academic updates as well as keeping on top of what our politicians are doing. As a family, you could chat about the day's new and recall some of the funny memes

7. Learn a language: try a new language on Duolingo.
